Brain-Dump Exercise

Once you've created a basic step-by-step process for your clients to follow so that they can achieve their desired result, it's time to get all of those ideas and thoughts out of your head.

The following worksheets will help to categorize ideas that you might have floating around.

Feel free to use a white board, index cards, mind-mapping software or any other helpful tool if you prefer. I'm providing this in order to get you into motion and you can certainly use this as your "Primary Brain-Dump Tool." ;-)

Have fun!

Cheers,
Tom Buford
